

Grade 1 Classroom Teacher (English speaking) (m/f/d)

Who are we and how do we work?

As a state-accredited private school sponsored by the Würth Foundation, Freie Schule Anne-Sophie in Berlin, Germany offers a continuous educational path from elementary school to the German Abitur. Classes are held all day and are bilingual in German and English right from the start. At Freie Schule Anne-Sophie Berlin, English speaking and German speaking teachers and educators work together to create a bilingual culture in the school. Our international learning community includes German families as well as many international families who have chosen Berlin as their new home.

In addition to bilingualism, the pedagogical concept is characterized by goal-oriented learning in a designed environment and the introduction to independent learning with new media. In each learning group, teaching, learning, and social development become a collaborative process. Personal support of the students through coaching sessions is an essential element of the learning culture. The goal is that every child leaves the Freie Schule Anne-Sophie Berlin as a winner. A winner in this context is someone who knows their strengths, learns to work with their weaknesses, accepts challenges, and takes responsibility for themselves and others.

What do we offer?

- small classes with often less than 20 students
- modern, inspiring working environment with an enthusiastic, international team, characterized by supportive and motivated teamwork, and an open communication culture
- the school provides each teacher with a MacBook and iPad

- the school has an intranet and internet, extensive WLAN network, digital learning platform, and ActivePanels in the classrooms
- regular professional exchange and opportunities for further professional development
- competitive pay
- Employee Assistance Program: Fürstenberg Institut

What are the responsibilities?

- Work in grade level and subject teaching teams to develop unit and lesson plans according to the school's internal curriculum
- Develop creative, engaging, and differentiated learning opportunities for multi-lingual and multi-cultural students
- Accommodate instruction methodology for English language learners and special education students
- Use various assessment methods to evaluate and track student progress, communicating this progress to parents in conferences and reports
- Create a positive, structured, and safe learning environment for students
- Work in professional learning communities to improve teaching and learning
- Develop positive parent-teacher relationships and promote parent-teacher partnerships

What qualifications are we looking for?

- a teaching degree from a university or college of education, a Master's degree in education is preferred but not required
- good knowledge of current education and research-based methodologies, such as the science of reading and working with multi-lingual students
- experience working in a multi-lingual, multi-cultural school environment
- strong collaborative skills to work in teaching teams
- strong interpersonal and communication skills
- a patient, resourceful and resilient personality
- some knowledge of the German language is preferred but not required

Have we caught your interest?

Please send your application with a letter of motivation, references, and qualifications to:

bewerbung.berlin@freie-schule-anne-sophie.de

For more information about our school see our Homepage:
www.freie-schule-anne-sophie.de